- SG BBM Bietigheim try to end a six-game winless streak when hosting CSM Bucuresti in MOTW of round 12 in the EHF Champions League Women 2022/23.
- CSM, on the contrary, have won seven of their eight CL matches since the 28:28 draw against Bietigheim in the reverse fixture last September.
- CSM star Cristina Neagu is just five goals short of becoming the third female player in CL history to reach the 1,000-goal mark; Anita Görbicz and Jovanka Radicevic have achieved that milestone before.
- Neagu is this CL season's leading goal scorer with 85; Julia Maidhof has netted 50 times for Bietigheim.
- CSM lead group A with 19 points; they will lock up a top-two position and secure direct entry into the quarter-finals if they get at least a draw in this MOTW.
- CSM have won their last five CL matches, which followed their only defeat of the season: 35:29 against defending champions Vipers Kristiansand in October.

- Bietigheim had the best ever start for a German team in a CL group phase with four wins and a draw.
- But they gained only one point from their last six CL games and now rank fifth, one point ahead of Brest Bretagne HB and two of Krim Mercator Ljubljana.
- Bietigheim beat CSM once in their four matches so far – 30:28 when they first met, in October 2018.
- CSM have played at the EHF FINAL4 three straight years – from 2016-18, and winning it in 2016 – while no German team has ever reached the CL semi-finals.
- Bietigheim's Danish right wing Trine Østergaard will join CSM after the current season.
- Coach Markus Gaugisch leaves Bietigheim after the season to focus on his role as Germany national team coach; Gaugisch will be replaced at Bietigheim by a former CSM coach: Jakob Vestergaard.
- Many players involved in this MOTW were on court when Germany met Romania at the EHF EURO 2022 last November; Neagu scored her 300th EHF EURO goal that day but Germany won the match: 32:28.
- As many as seven (former) world champions might appear on court during this MOTW: Bietigheim have Kelly Dulfer and Inger Smits (Netherlands, 2019); CSM have Siraba Dembele Pavlovic, Grace Zaadi Deuna and Laura Glauser (France, 2017) as well as Malin Aune and Emilie Hegh Arntzen (Norway, 2021).
- Injury report – Bietigheim: Danick Snelder (knee), Antje Döll (knee); CSM: Kalidiatou Niakaté (knee).
